

CMES Colloquium

Salma
Mousa
Yale University

Online • September 16, 2021 • 1:00 pm EST

Escaping the trap of 'uncivic' societies: Experimental evidence from a Lebanese recycling program

Salma Mousa is an Assistant Professor of Political Science at Yale University. An Egyptian scholar of migration, conflict, and social cohesion, Salma typically partners with governments and NGOs in the Middle East and beyond to explore these questions. Her research has been published in Science and the American Political Science Review, and profiled by The Economist and PBS NOVA.